What is the Michelson-Morley experiment? This is where the big mistake of modern science begins.

What is the Michelson and Morley experiment? This is an experiment conducted to learn about ether. This means that the Earth orbits the Sun at a speed of 29 km per second. Michelson and Morley found it to be an easy way to get to know Ether. The variable gauge was developed by Michelson based on the classic idea that the speed of the Earth's change in the frequency of light. But they could not detect in the light even a frequency variation of 29 km and 2 km. Michelson and Morley published their findings in a journal as a skeptical view. The news that ether could not be detected shook the world. This led me to read Albert Einstein. Albert did not have the knowledge to correct that misconception. Thus an illusory universe was being created in his mind.

What is a variation device?

The frequency formation of waves in a flowing medium is unique. Wavelength decreases as a wave propagates against the flow of media. But the wavelength increases with the waves propagating against the flow. This variance is what Michelson and Morley tried to measure. But it gave birth to world idiots.

Because the air of ether is not really felt on earth?

Ether orbits the Sun at the same speed as the Earth orbits. That is, ether revolves around the sun just as air rotates with the earth as it rotates. Ether orbits the Sun at planetary speeds. Now you understand what. The Indian Panchabhuta doctrines were rejected by the West. So what happened? It presented the world's physics idiots.

Doppler problem.

Why say the Doppler effect when the Michelson and Morley experiments failed. Doppler effect requires ether wind. Doppler does not work on Albert Einstein's theory. Doppler should not be accepted by modern science where Michelson failed. It has no modern scientific potential. Understand the double tap of modern science. Michelson and Morley philosophically reject a stationary ether. That is, they rejected stationary ether. The ether in Kishore Science is moving. Know that no wave motion is possible in immobile ether. No one before Michelson and Morley has proven that the philosophical ether is movable or immovable. Then the question remains on what basis the experiment took place. A dumb doctor claimed the patient was dead. Another doctor raises the dead. What a paradox.

Morley's experiment has not been repeated in modern media, known by new names instead of ether. If the Michelson and Morley experiment is repeated, even the Higgs will be out. If ether wind is not seen at the speed of the earth's rotation, then many people are wondering at what speed to look. At any constant speed of the closed frame, the air in the frame does not move even slightly. Gravity builds a closed framework on the planets

Why was the theory of relativity born?

So remember the incident that caused Albert Einstein to think. Where the mistake starts. Because of the Michelson and Morley experiment itself. The red shift was not detected by the ether wind light diffraction gauge even slightly at Earth's orbital speed. So Albert thought. He asserted that if there was no difference at small speeds, there would be no difference at large speeds. This means that the red shift is unlikely to be visible even at a distance from the galaxy. How the Red Shift was accepted when Albert's theory of relativity existed. Albert was not rejected after relativity. I was amazed at how Albert, the class vision non-classic of the Red Shift, grew up in the middle of the theory of relativity. When the magician shows the magic, the child who believes completely finds his own reason to believe the children who do not see the magic and convinces the children. If the knife enters the body at excessive speed, there will be no injury. Even if the wound is caused by speed, it cannot be seen. Analyzes whether the wound dries quickly due to speed. The magician who casually listens to the child's analysis will put his finger on his nose. So did the theory of relativity. Hahaha.

What is Ether or Sky?

We do not experience wind when we are still or when the air is still. Similarly, without air vibration, there is no experience of sound. The experience of heat and light occurs when light ether moves. Experience is characteristic of the five states of matter. i.e. panchabhuta conditions. Experience requires material motion.

Sound travels at a speed of 360 meters per second. That is, if the air around it spreads over three million kilometers, that is sky or ether. The Michelson and Morley experiments are proof that ether orbits the Earth. Had that experiment not taken place, a distorted theory of relativity and a stupid mathematical equation would not have been born. We must first try to understand the cause of all this. And don't try to interpret Michelson and Morley's erroneous bases as modern science. Michelson and Morley Bayes-raised science are all rabid pushovers.

New experiment that can detect ether.

There is an experiment that can detect ether. That's what research centers like NASA should think. The draft test method for detecting ether is introduced here. The Michelson and Morley method is not the way Ether can be proven. My method No one has put forward this method yet. That's the way it's going to say. The frequency of light falling on each planet varies. That is, the luminosity decreases gradually from Mercury to Pluto. This is due to the rotation of ether, the medium of light. The frequency variation of light coming to the earth can be measured in this way. Earth's orbital speed is 29 kilometers per second. The time it takes for light to reach the earth is 8 minutes. Thus the mathematical $29 \times 60 \times 8 = 13920$ km will show the frequency variation. This frequency variation is due to the rotation of the ether. In that vortex the light curves and shows the frequency variation. Then the frequency of the light falling on each planet will change. Thus an artificial satellite is needed to measure the frequency variation of each planet. That is, the frequency from the Sun changes when it reaches Earth. If this draft experiment is proven, the world will be shaken. But the reason for the prolongation of this experiment is the conservative attitude of the world. You can also experiment with a laser. A powerful laser is emitted from Earth to Mars. From there the satellite examines the laser lowering laser frequencies. The laser is emitted from Earth to Venus. Thus an increase in frequency variation can be found.

Ether problem and remedy.

Which experiment confirmed that Ether was stationary before Michelson and Morley. (Static ether is just a hypothesis, not something that has been experimentally confirmed.) In the experiment of Michelson and Morley, I learned that ether moves under the influence of gravity. That is, ether is like air moving with the earth. Feelings are not true. When Ether was discarded, a few new fields were added to replace Ether. One of them is the electromagnetic field. I do not know how the electromagnetic graph migrated into the sky. What came later was that string theory dominated for a while and then string theory was rejected. Today the Gravity Field, the Quantum Field, and the Higgs Field dominate. None of these are compatible with each other. No experiments have confirmed whether these fields exist. Just hypothesis. It is claimed to have been proven on the basis of erroneous theories. And sometimes this theory is rejected and a new lie is uncovered. Then the hypocrites will catch the new liar and the shameless will justify that science is change.

In physics, ether theories (also known as ether theories) exist as a medium for the propagation of electromagnetic or gravitational forces, a space-filling object, or a field of transmission. After the development of particular relativity, theories using substantial ether became obsolete in modern physics, which are now being replaced by more abstract models.

Early modern ethers bear no resemblance to the ether of the classical elements to which the name is borrowed. Different types of theories involve different concepts of this medium and matter.

This is the truth

Albert Einstein Relativity Theory Problem and GPS.

Albert Einstein begins the problem of relativity. Michelson Morley is from the experiment. Albert thought this without realizing the mistake of Michelson Morley. Albert theorized that the speed of light would remain constant at any given speed if the speed of light did not change with the speed of the Earth's orbit. Thus Albert came to the theoretical conclusion about light without putting forward any philosophical evidence. Albert's method was first theory and then mathematical equation. Although the theory is incorrect, modern science still seeks to implicit mathematics. Modern physics sets out a mathematical trump card so that no one questions too much. No one has been able to provide classical evidence for this theoretical idea. The world accepted Albert Einstein's theory not because he understood it, but because of its mysteries. Moreover no one tried to find the theoretical error of Albert Einstein. But Albert Science is a big mistake in Kishore classical science. Kishore Science Albert pointed out the theoretical error. There are those who think of mathematical equation first and then theory. Even if the theory is wrong, it can make a mathematical mess. Jolsya also performed mathematical operations to predict the future. So is the Albert Einstein method. The distorted theory of relativity is a pseudoscience created by Albert's ignorance.

How does the Michelson Morley experiment work? Simple method.

Michelson and Morley have never experimented with high-speed aircraft or trains. Practical methods were discouraged because ether wind could not be detected in the Earth's self-rotation or orbit. Ether acts like air in the gravitational field because it does not feel the air. The fastest vehicle will definitely experience ether. In modern times, Michelson believes that Morley can perform accurately at low speeds. The Michelson Morley experiment needs to be revisited.

Why is GPS slow?

The GPS system is slowing down as the Earth's rotation speed increases. At certain times the Earth's rotation speed decreases and then the GPS speed increases slowly. The Earth's rotation speed usually increases as the flood season approaches. There are floods in many versions. Ranging from the Magnificent Flood to the Kalpa Flood. The earth is falling into the sun. But the active state of the planets does not allow it. The generation of energy inside the planets creates a strong magnetic field. Then the inside will boil more. As the Earth's magnetic field becomes stronger, the Earth's rotation speed increases and the magnetic bubble effect increases, causing the Earth to lose weight and rise like a hydrogen balloon against the Sun's gravity. Thus the Earth resets the Earth's orbit. After the flood, the earth's rotation speed decreases. That is, Earth and the planets existed for 432 million years. If not reset, all the planets will fall into the sun. GPS needs to be reset every 4 years as the Earth's rotation speed increases.
